

Authentic Look, Affordable Elegance

Jamie Yager has always had a gift for fixing things up, taking something that is deteriorating and making it into a beautiful, functional unit. From automobiles to buildings, he has put his talents to use restoring them over the years. His experience led him to establish a customer-centered company, Signature Surfaces, centered around hard-surface construction, restoration, and replication.

His company uses a hybrid concrete product to update existing hard surfaces or to create new countertops and floors. This material has been used in construction all over the world for more than a decade to create authentic and often stunning looks, but is relatively new in this part of the United States.

Jamie also uses other products that provide concrete repair and restoration. He is a certified installer for these products.

Signature Surfaces offers three main services to its customers: countertop, outside concrete, and inside floor and wall repair and installation. Jamie can install any new kitchen, bath, or bar countertop or resurface the existing one. Unique to Signature Surfaces is the ability to replicate any look in the new creation. The concrete he uses is designed to be colored, so if customers want the look of marble, granite, slate, travertine, or a custom look, Jamie can satisfy them. He can mimic anything. You can get the look of old with the benefits of new.

Besides countertops, Signature Surfaces can repair and resurface any existing concrete, such as patios, sidewalks and garage floors. After many years these surfaces become worn and need a facelift. As long as the concrete isn't too badly deteriorated, Jamie can apply an overlay. Custom decorative surfaces or replication to an existing look are also available.

Tile and stone showers and floors are very popular, but can be quite expensive. Signature Surfaces is able to replicate the appearance and color of tile and stone or achieve a complete custom look for a fraction of the cost. Kitchen, bathroom, and shower floors and walls are prime candidates for Signature Surfaces' touch.

Signature Surfaces' products also lend themselves to 3-D building, especially outdoor landscaping features. The lightweight, concrete material performs well in creating such things as BBQs, boulders, waterfalls, ponds and unique custom features.

Jamie's finished projects offer many advantages over traditional hard surface construction. Low cost and authentic, natural material replication are two of the most obvious. Others include endurance, value, less mess, no demolition required, faster, ease of maintenance, and environmentally safe. A Signature Surfaces' finished project can be of a monolithic, completely sealed, seamless one piece construction. There are no grout lines to trap dirt. In addition they can stand up to harsh weather conditions and are easily installed even in difficult environments.

Signature Surfaces is a small company, able to provide its customers with personal service. Jamie does all of the bidding himself and is on every job site. He also offers free in-home consultations. He services residential customers, but is expanding his business to include more commercial and industrial concrete repair and restoration.

The outstanding durability of Signature Surfaces' products as well as their unparalleled value and low maintenance nature, make them the perfect solution to any hard-surface application. Jamie's commitment to providing his customers with a quality product and superior service at an affordable price round out the reasons to turn to Signature Surfaces for all your hard surface needs.
